"Exploring Women's Stories in the Old & New Testament"

SATURDAY MARCH 8, 2008

9:00 a.m. - 8:00 p.m.

Sponsored by: Ginger Stewart

Address:

With
MODENIA JOY KRAMER
and
SUZANNE LAWRENCE

Modenia gained her love for the Lord from her beloved Grandmother. She taught Sunday school while still a student herself, always exploring new ways to reach people - including puppet shows. But it was when she was asked to do a religious performance for a church congregation that she knew she had found her ministry.

The gift that guides her work is the question from Christ on the Cross: "This I did for you. What will you do for me?" Her search for an answer has led her to the founding of the "Women of the Bible".

Suzanne was a young housewife with three small children when she discovered how to study the Bible and understand its stories. Over the years she has surrounded herself with research material, maps, and commentaries. Through living history performances she met Modenia and joined the "Women of the Bible".

Suzanne says, "Every day I feel as though I am communing with the world's deepest thinkers."
